Behavioral Interviewing and Other Effective Hiring Processes

Hiring the right candidate for positions at all levels of your organization is key to low turnover, high productivity, and employee satisfaction, yet traditional interviews rarely provide sufficient information and insight into the candidate's skills, abilities and organizational "fit" to ensure a good hire.

In contrast, Behavioral Interviews provide a robust and honest picture of the candidate and significantly increase the quality of the hiring process, enabling your organization to hire the right candidate for your specific needs! This session teaches the skills and strategies needed to efficiently and effectively gain important information regarding the candidate's skills, experience, work style, and career goals, as well as the type of environment they are truly seeking. Join us for this highly engaging webinar to gain skills to significantly strengthen retention by hiring the right candidate with both the right skills and organizational fit for the long-term.
