AHI Helps Practices, Including Adirondack Pediatrics, Attain NYS PCMH Recognition

Adirondack Health Institute provides expert, no-cost transformation-related coaching and guidance, and remote and on-site training and support to help primary care practices achieve New York State Patient-Centered Medical Home (NYS PCMH) recognition.

Jolene Munger, AHI's Provider Engagement Manager - Practice Transformation and an NCQA PCMH Certified Content Expert (CCE), worked closely with Adirondack Pediatrics in Glens Falls to help them achieve 2014 NCQA PCMH Level 3 status, the highest degree of recognition attainable. Munger helped the practice by first reviewing their policies and procedures and explaining program standards to the staff. "We'd get lost and confused over some of the standards because they weren't written in plain English," shared the practice's Mary Nevins, MD. "Jolene was able to break it down so we really knew where we stood and what we needed to do."

The Baywood Center in Queensbury, part of 820 River Street, Inc., and Peter Young Housing, Industries and

In addition to opening a new location, the Baywood Annex in Hudson Falls, the organization has added a full-time Community Outreach Counselor, a position supported by DSRI innovation/transformation funding.

According to Jennifer Neifeld, Chief Operating Officer, trained licensed therapist Ashley Scroggy will assess barriers impeding clients from obtaining needed substance abuse treatment and develop a plan to help them tap into such services. "Ashley is fully mobile and able to meet clients outside of the traditional office setting," explained Neifeld. "We're extremely pleased to be able to expand our services to meet the needs of the community."
